

Specialty Coding:

Profession codes available for this specialty

Specialty Card: Creed (Akida) and Comparative Religion

Level: Bachelor's degree

Domain: Humanities and Social Sciences

Field: Islamic Sciences - Fundamentals of Religion

Specialty: Creed and Comparative Religion

1- Training Location:

Faculty: Faculty of Islamic Sciences, University of Batna1-

Department: Fundamentals of Religion (Usul-Eddine)

Decision Qualification reference: No. 828 dated 26/07/2016

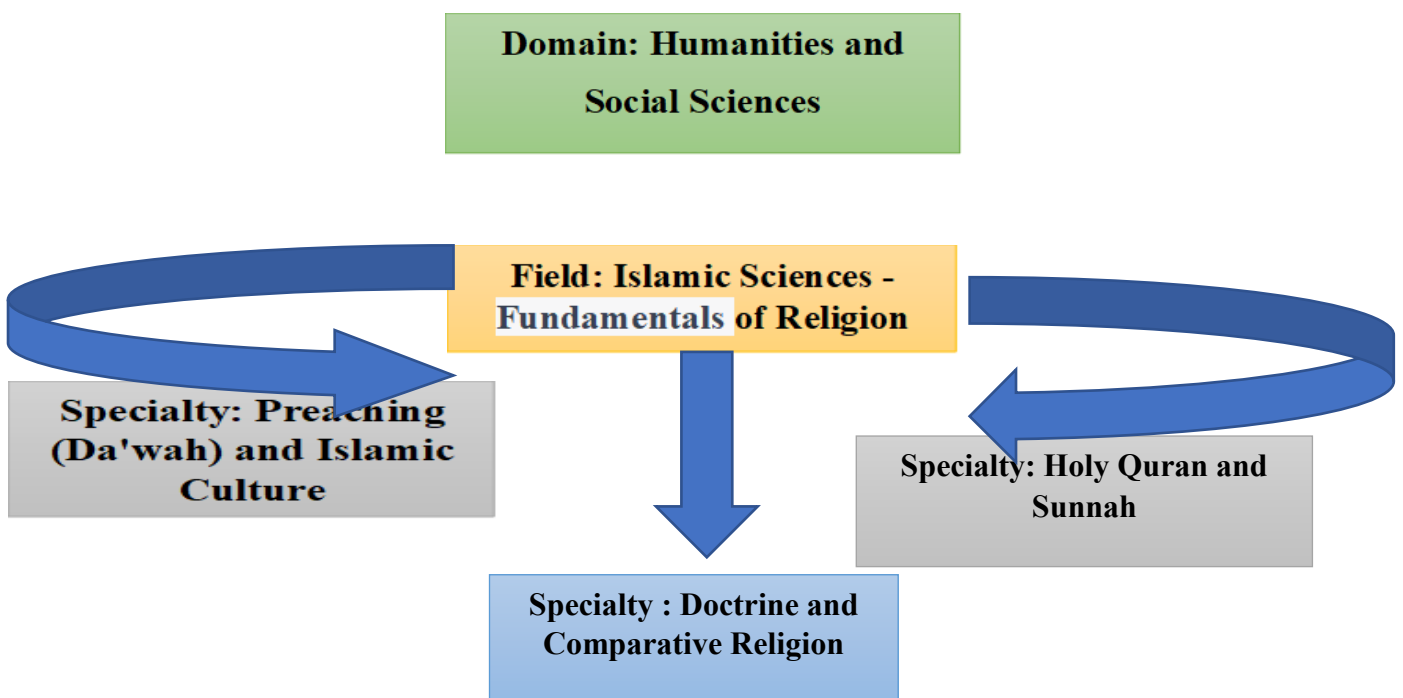

2- Other Participants:

Partners from other universities: Emir Abdelkader Constantine University, Hamma Lakhdar El Wadi University, University of M'sila, Department of Media and Communication, Batna 1.

Other institutions, social and economic partners: National Education, Religious Affairs, Judicial Institution, Cultural Institutions.

International foreign partners.

3- General organization of the training: project status

4- The content of the training and its contexts:

Creed and Comparative Religion is one of the branches of the origins of religion. The bachelor's degree program consists of modules that revolve around belief (doctrine), its origins, history, and methods, as well as an overview of beliefs, denominations, sects, and doctrinal and intellectual doctrines.

5- Training objectives:

This training aims to simplify the main concepts and approaches of the specialty: Islamic belief, core doctrines, and comparative religion.

- Identify the fundamental sources of Islamic faith and its approaches.
- Understand the sources of other religions.
- Study different doctrines and their various schools.

6- Targeted competencies of the training:

This bachelor's degree provides students with elements of knowledge and understanding of faith and its foundations, as well as a comprehensive understanding of existing religions in different nations and peoples.

7- Local, regional, and national employability capabilities:

Graduates with a bachelor's degree in this specialty can:

- Continue their academic journey by pursuing a Master's degree.
- Enter the job market through public employment competitions.
- Work in the field of religious affairs.
- Work in the private sector.